Proud Teacher Panel

An evening of dialogue with LGBTQ elementary school practitioners

Tuesday, May 6, 2014
5:00 p.m.-7:00 p.m.

Brooklyn College Student Center (5th Floor)
East 27th Street & Campus Road
Brooklyn, NY 11210
Refreshments served

The Proud Teacher Initiative at Brooklyn College is hosting a panel discussion on the challenges and possibilities for being openly gay in NYC public schools. The panel features teachers and principals sharing experiences of being LGBTQ in elementary school settings and explores important questions related to creating safe, affirming spaces for authentic practice with children and families.
